Conducting my transaction using moneycorp rather than my bank meant I saved thousands of dollars thanks to their competitive exchange rates. I was expertly assisted through this process by my dedicated account manager, who provided me with invaluable market guidance and a welcome personal touch to the service. Available at the end of the phone, they also provided me with the convenience of being able to transfer the funds from the comfort of my home. As such, I would have no hesitation in recommending moneycorp to friends and family with foreign exchange requirements.
